

The Pasadena Chamber of Commerce

Serving our members and our community since 1888

Originally incorporated as the Pasadena Board of Trade in 1888, the Chamber of Commerce played a pivotal role in the development and funding of Pasadena's schools, libraries, hospital, City Hall and the iconic Colorado Street Bridge.

In 1919, The Board of Trade became the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce. In the 1920s, the Chamber passed the bond measure that paid to construct our Pasadena Public Library, City Hall and Civic Auditorium. We also successfully advocated for creation of the Pasadena Freeway, the Metro Gold Line and much more.

After 27 years of operation in New York, Honeybee Robotics opened its West Coast operations facility with the help of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce. We decided to open a facility in Pasadena and began talking to the Chamber staff about the best site to locate our company. Within a month we moved in here.

-Kris Zacny, Honeybee Robotics (Quoted in the Pasadena Star-News)

Since joining the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce, I have received many calls from potential customers, and I will be meeting with one of them this Friday. I will be meeting with the team to discuss the proposal. When it all goes well, this will be a life-changing opportunity. All thanks to the Chamber.
